MEMORANDUM FOR: Members of the IAC and USCIB

SUBJECT : Proposed Changes in NSCID 1 for Accomplishing the Merger of the IAC and USCIB

REFERENCE : IAC-M-338, Item 1

1. Pursuant to the charge laid upon me by the members of the IAC and USCIB at their joint meeting of 22 April 1958, I am transmitting herewith a working draft of a proposed charter for the new merged U. S. Intelligence Board. The draft charter, itself, is set forth in paragraph 2, which we have incorporated in a draft revision of NSCID 1 as a whole in order to make clear certain changes which should appropriately be made in other parts of that directive at the same time.

2. In developing this draft, account has been taken of the statutory responsibilities of the Director of Central Intelligence and of the Agency, of similar important responsibilities of the other departments and agencies, and of the unique structure of the intelligence community. We have also been mindful of some of the criticisms directed at the intelligence community when the directives were presented to the NSC for approval. This draft is now presented to the members of the IAC and USCIB for their consideration and discussion.

3. The new Board will undoubtedly wish to consider the possible reallocation of certain committee functions, together with a possible reorganization of the present subcommittee structure. In my judgement, however, these problems are essentially independent of the revision of NSCIDs required, and can be taken up at the Board's pleasure after appropriate NSCIDs have been approved.
